98 1937 Roadmaster Supreme boys bicycle	1937 Roadmaster Supreme boys bicycle. There are a handful of bicycles from the 1930s that were conceived by noted industrial designers and this is one of them. Onnie Mankki, the Finnish industrial designer is credited with creating this outrageous streamlined bicycle and receiving a patent for it in August of 1936. This particular bike, manufactured by the Cleveland Welding Company, Cleveland Ohio, has very good original paint and the chrome surfaces are in excellent condition. The tires are made by Goodyear and say "DeLuxe Rib" on the sidewall. The gooseneck, which is unique to Roadmaster, has
