78 Eddy Merckx Autographed Jersey

Eddy Merckx race worn autographed World Champion Rainbow jersey. Possibly the most successful professional road and track racer of all time, winner of eleven grand tours including five Tour de France races. Édouard Louis Joseph, Baron Merckx (Dutch: Born 17 June 1945), better known as Eddy Merckx, is a Belgian former professional road and track bicycle racer who is the most successful rider in the history of competitive cycling. His victories include an unequalled eleven Grand Tours (five Tours of France, five Tours of Italy, and a Tour of Spain), all five Monuments, three World Championships, former hour record holder, every major one-day race other than Paris–Tours, and extensive victories on the track.

After winning eighty races as an amateur racer, he turned professional on 29 April 1965 when he signed with Solo–Superia. His first major victory came in the Milan–San Remo a year later, after switching to Peugeot–BP–Michelin. After the 1967 season, Merckx moved to Faema, and won the Giro d'Italia, his first Grand Tour victory. Four times between 1970 and 1974, Merckx completed a Grand Tour double. His final double also coincided with winning the men's road race at the UCI Road World Championships to make him the first rider to accomplish cycling's Triple Crown. Merckx broke the hour record in October 1972, extending the record by almost 800 meters. He acquired the nickname "The Cannibal", suggested by the daughter of a teammate upon being told by her father of how Merckx would not let anyone else win. Merckx achieved 525 victories over his eighteen-year career. He is one of only three riders to have won all five 'Monuments' (Milan–San Remo, Tour of Flanders, Paris–Roubaix, Liège–Bastogne–Liège, and the Giro di Lombardia) and the only one to have won them all twice or more. The other two are fellow Belgians Roger De Vlaeminck and Rik Van Looy. Merckx was successful on the road and also on the track, as well as in Marco Pantani (Italian pronunciation: (13 January 1970 – 14 February 2004) was an Italian road racing cyclist, widely regarded among the greatest, if not the greatest, climbing specialist in the history of the sport by measures of his legacy, credits from other riders, and records. He recorded the fastest ever climbs up the Tour's iconic venues of Mont Ventoux (46:00) and Alpe d'Huez (36:50), and all-time greats including Lance Armstrong and Charly Gaul have hailed Pantani's superior climbing skills. He won both the Tour de France and the Giro d'Italia in 1998, being the sixth Italian after Ottavio Bottecchia, Gino Bartali, Fausto Coppi, Felice Gimondi and Gastone Nencini to win the Tour de France. He is the last cyclist, and one of only seven, to win the Giro and the Tour in the same year. Pantani's attacking style and aggressive riding turned him into a fan favorite in the late 1990s. He was known as "Il Pirata" (English: "The Pirate") because of his shaven head and the bandana and earrings he wore. Good condition. Estimate: 200.00 - 300.00

Pictured are 4 High Wheelers, Pneumatic and Hard Tired (includes 3 cross framed) safeties, and an Olympia pneumatic tandem tricycle. Keen was one of England's most famous and best bicycle racers and manufacturers of the 1870s and early 1880s. He went to America to compete. Pope recognized Keen and his racing prowess on the first famous poster. This photo taken beside the Angel Inn. Signage for his shop included "JOHN KEEN - CYCLE MANUFACTURER - REPAIRER" beside the door, a poster for Hillman, Herbert & Cooper poster as well as a sign for "Home Trainers". This photo was taken from the original glass plate negative. An early to mid-20th century production of a circa 1892 image. See Andrew Ritchie's book King Of The Road page 132-3. Exterior of the frame is 16" x 13". Good
