- 1a Johnny Coy Ford V 8 60 HP midget
1947 #77 Johnny Coy Ford V 8 60 Midget race car.
This is a typical early style midget, most likely built from plans in Ray Kuns Automobile Racing books from the mid 1930's. The six volume editions covered how to build a race car from available parts, mostly from used junkyard components. Frames were fabricated, bodies were hand formed, some items were purchased, such as brakes, steering, instruments, etc. The common chassis type was a rail frame with cross leaf springs on front and rear and shocks of any type. Steering, instruments etc were available from suppliers or speed shops. Engines were a variety that was available, two cycle Elto outboards, motorcycle, and other small engines. The best and readily accessible was the V 8 60 HP Ford manufactured from 1937-1940. The 110 Cu Inch flathead V 8 was the perfect engine for midgets. Speed equipment was being produced and the V 8 60 became a competitor to the 110 Cu Inch Offenhauser. The V 8 60 provided lots of Saturday night entertainment and occasionally beat an Offy. This car has a V 8 60 engine with high compression heads, twin carburetors, exhaust headers, magneto ignition, external oil and water pumps. The button on the brake lever is a magneto kill switch, used when there was trouble on the track. The car is in very nice presentable condition, ready to show and use. It will require detailing and mechanical attention. 1947 #77 Johnny Coy Ford V 8 60 Midget race car.

Johnny Coy started racing on asphalt tracks in Long Island, NY. He raced stock cars, sprint cars and three-quarter midgets, but it was midgets that he was best at. He raced from 1946 until 1984, a mammoth spell. He won the 1949 Auto Racing Association/Midget Auto Racing Association series. He won sixty-nine ARDC events and won the ARDC Midget title four times in five years from 1968 to 1972, missing out only in 1970. Coy also competed in NASCAR and was a qualified and gifted mechanic.

See documentation provided with the car. This was probably one of Johnny Coy's earliest race car rides.

Photo included has Johnny Coy in car at Thompson CT in 1947. Marty Himes Racing Museum Collection Bay Shore New York.
